How to Combat 8 of the SEO World's Most Irritating Problems

① Following best practices often does nothing for new and emerging sites

Getting off this right doesn't increase rankings; it merely prevents problems.

- ☐ Clean URLs
- ☐ Good, unique content
- ☐ Solid keyword targeting
- ☐ Schema markup
- ☐ Useful internal links
- ☐ Fast load speed
- ☐ Mobile-friendly
- ☐ No manipulative links

② My competition is ranking on the back of manipulative/spammy links!

Are these the reason they rank?

Are you willing to risk your site's reputation for a quick fix?

③ I have no visibility or understanding of why my rankings go up vs. down

Rank: (vs. last week)

7 (-7)
9 (-1)
12 (-7)

- A) You made changes
- B) Google made changes
- C) Competitors made changes
- D) Searcher behavior changed

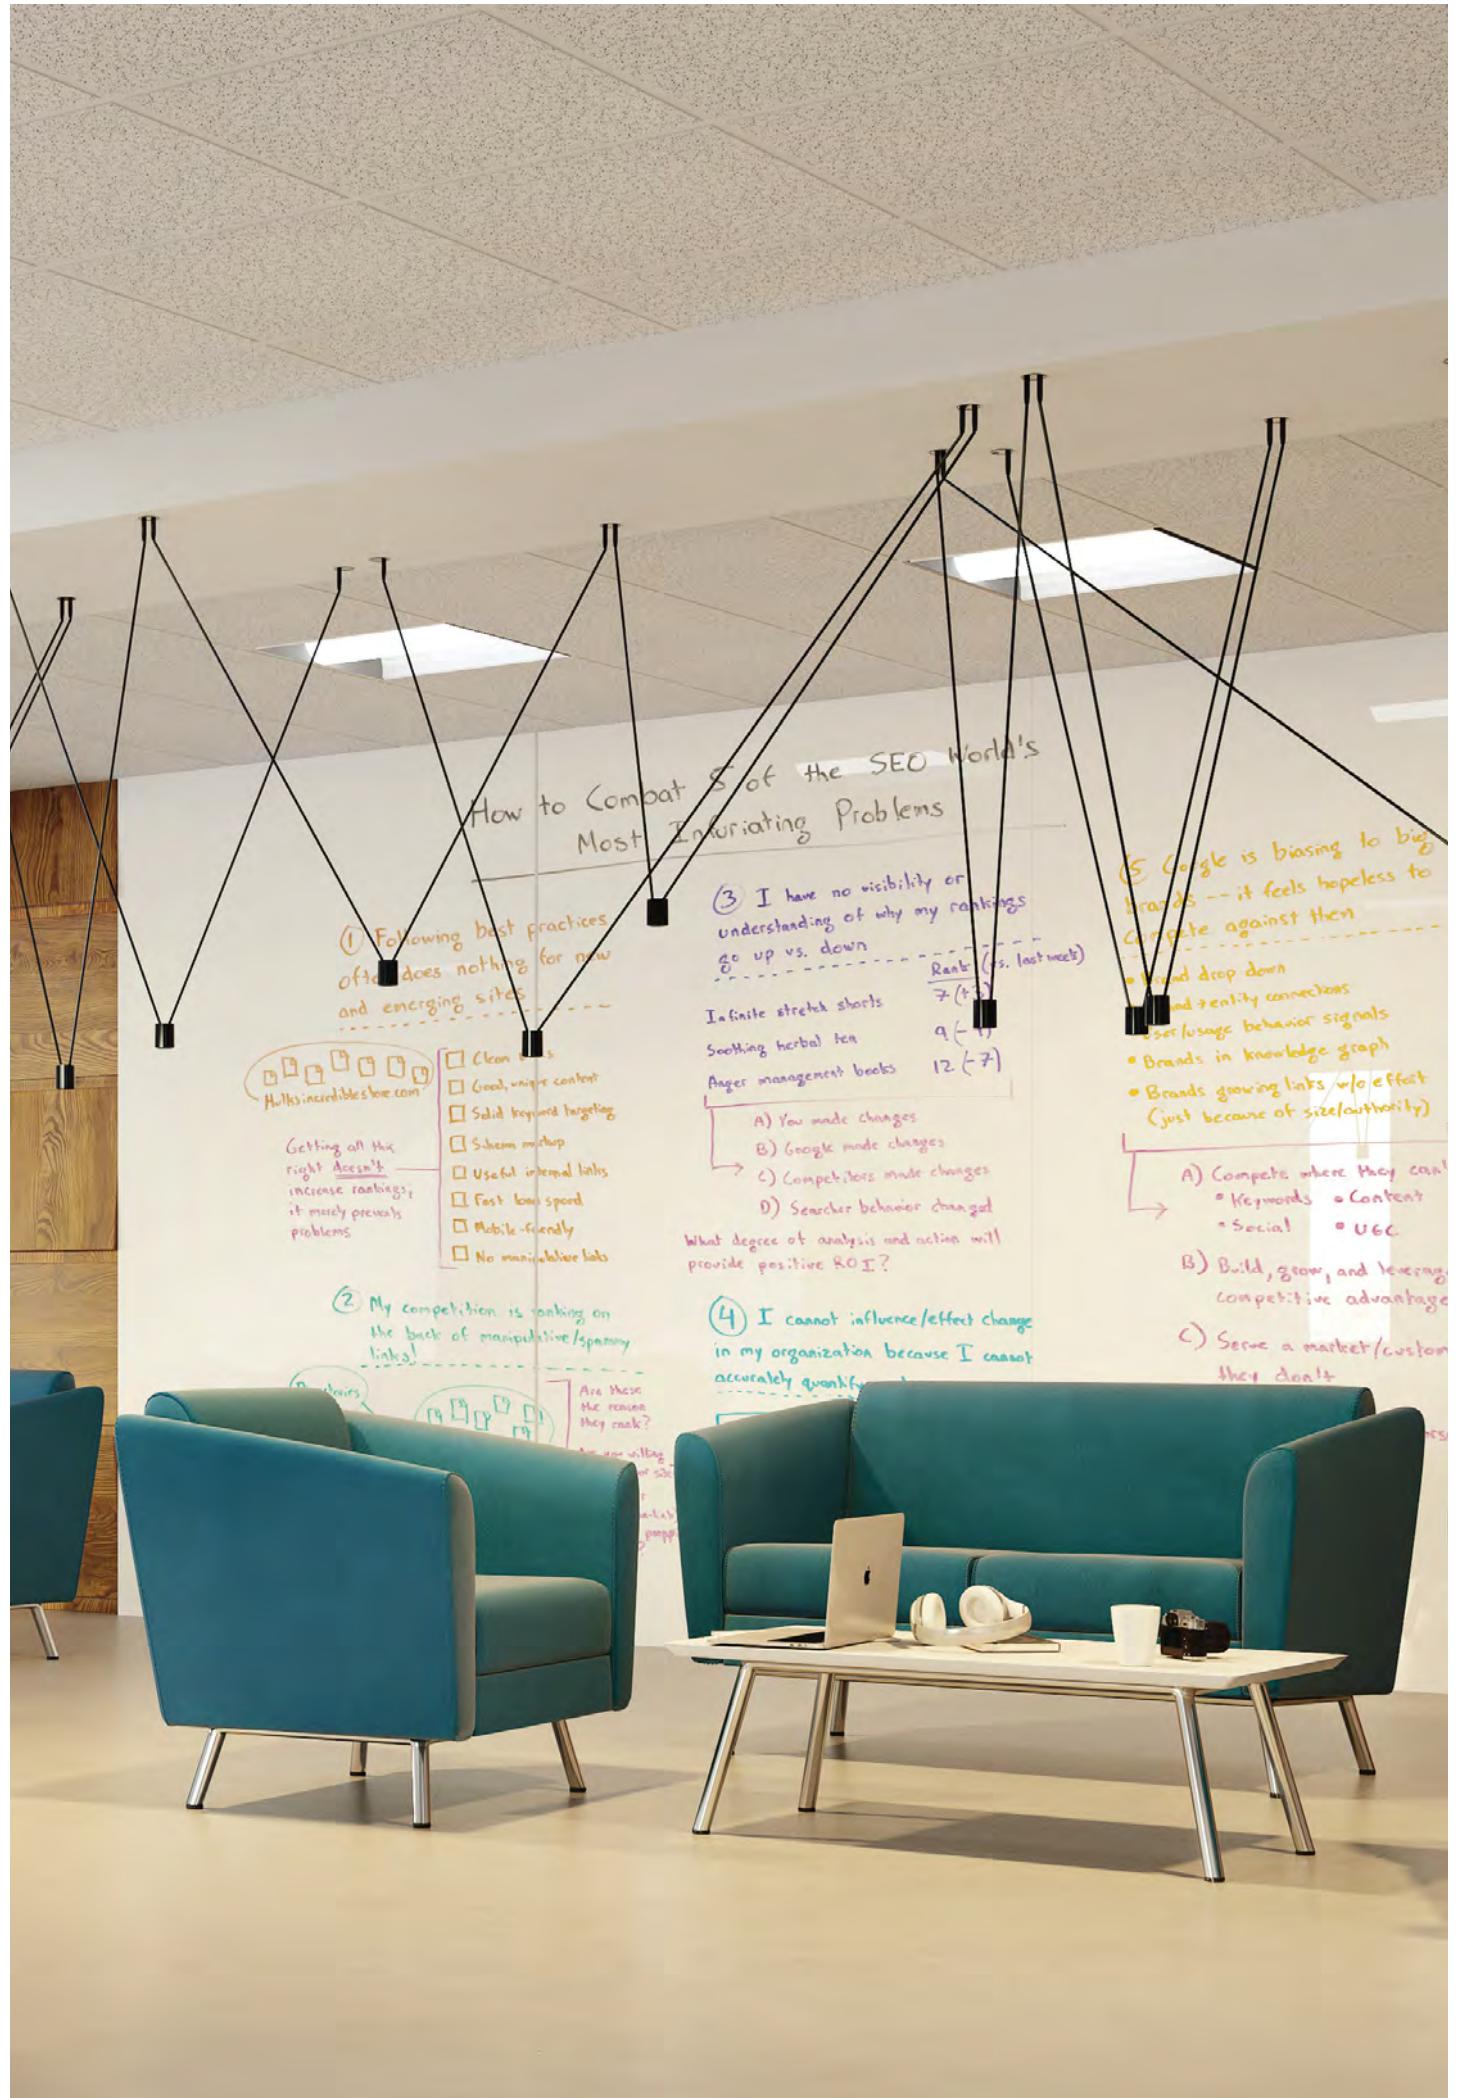

What degree of analysis and action will provide positive ROI?

④ I cannot influence/effect change in my organization because I cannot accurately quantify it

⑤ Google is biasing to big brands -- it feels hopeless to compete against them

- Hand drop down
- Brand + entity connections
- User/usage behavior signals
- Brands in knowledge graph
- Brands growing links w/o effect (just because of size/authority)

- A) Compete where they can
  - Keywords
  - Content
  - Social
  - UGC
- B) Build, grow, and leverage competitive advantage
- C) Serve a market/custom they don't
