KOALA Pods

Intelligent Spaces, Beautifully Designed.

Koala Pods redefine the modern workspace through carefully considered acoustic design, creating environments that support focus, comfort and a sense of calm. Each pod offers a dedicated retreat for deep work, private conversations or quiet collaboration.

Constructed from sustainable PET acoustic panels, Koala Pods provide high-performance sound absorption while contributing to a more responsible approach to workspace design. Every element is designed with purpose, from the integrated ventilation system that maintains comfortable airflow to the ceiling light with adjustable brightness that responds to different tasks and preferences.

The range includes MY Koala Pod, an individual workspace designed for one, and OUR Koala Pod, a shared setting tailored for two. Both are equipped with a functional work table and integrated power, supporting a seamless and efficient user experience.

Koala Pods go beyond reducing noise. They create refined, self contained environments where productivity, privacy and sustainability exist in harmony.

A cylindrical acoustic workspace pod with a dark grey, vertically-slatted exterior and a perforated glass door. Inside, a blue ergonomic chair is visible. To the left of the pod is a potted Monstera plant. To the right is a modern office desk with a light-colored top and a grey acoustic partition. The floor is light wood, and the wall is a muted blue-grey.

MY Koala Pod

MY Koala Pod is a compact acoustic workspace crafted from high-performance PET material, designed to bring privacy, comfort and focus to modern open environments.
